40 snips to the minute

At the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City a pair of pliers is hooked up with a motor. Snip, snip, snip, 40 times a minute, day in and day out, the pliers bite into telephone wire until they finally break or become so dull they just can't snip any more.

Proving what? Simply that whether it's the tools a telephone man handles or the calls an operator handles, we keep on the lookout for improvements in things which affect the service that helps you reach anybody, anywhere, any time—quickly, clearly and at low cost. New York Telephone Company.

Mrs. Cross Sails For Europe Today

Mrs. Evelyn Cross of Crosspatch, near Willow, sailed for Europe on the Queen Mary today. She will make quite an extended tour going to Scotland, home of her ancestors, then London, Paris, Milan, Italian Lakes, Florence, Venice and Rome, returning to London and sailing for home the latter part of August.

This is not Mrs. Cross' first trip abroad, she has been three times before. She says she looks forward to this trip more than ever before on account of the restless condition of Europe. Her special studies in economics give her a background from which to judge the real feeling of the various peoples.

Mrs. Cross manages her own travels on a strictly individual and independent basis, going where she pleases and talking and making friends with all sorts of people. Speaking French and Italian, she finds herself as much at home on the Continent as in England.

Crosspatch Community Center will be closed this summer during Mrs. Cross' absence. This is the first time in many years that Crosspatch failed of its summer good times. Mrs. Cross hopes to spend a little time at this quaint old place of hers when she returns in September.

51st Commencement Begins Thursday At Normal School

New Paltz, June 9—Thursday June 10, at 1:30, the 51st annual commencement program will officially start when moving-up day program will begin in the auditorium.

Exercises will take place in which each of the three classes will be moved up one year, the seniors becoming alumni, juniors, seniors, and the freshmen, juniors. The three class skits also will be held at this time.

Thursday evening the lantern service will be held on the campus in front of the main building. Saturday evening the last dance of the year, the commencement ball, is to be held in the gymnasium and attendance at this affair is limited to seniors and students participating in the commencement exercises.

The baccalaureate service will take place on Sunday morning and the class day exercises and faculty reception on Monday afternoon. Close the social activities of commencement, the official activities of which will be on Tuesday morning, June 15, at 10:30 o'clock, when awards and diplomas will be given to the graduating class. Attendance at commencement on Tuesday is by ticket only.

Traditional Lantern Service

The lantern service is one of the most impressive of all New Paltz customs and will take place Thursday night on the Normal School campus. This ceremony was conceived in 1929 by Susan Sposato, Winifred Barry and Muriel Gregory, the respective presidents of the senior, junior and freshman classes.

The main purpose of lantern service is to afford an opportunity for an event of all-school participation and also to give recognition to outstanding students not necessarily recognized by school honor societies. After several conferences in 1929 the beginnings of the lantern service was developed with lantern bearers forming the letters "J", "S" and "A" as is still customary. In 1930 the ceremony was enhanced with the formation of concentric circles by the three classes after the singing of the senior Serenade and the Alma Mater. Faculty participation in lantern service began in 1931 and in the same year the singing of the vespers hymn was introduced. All these customs remain today as integral parts of this effective exercise.

After the singing of the vespers hymn the senior class president, Shirley Pearson, will break the circles and lead Principal Dr. Lawrence H. Vandenberg and other members of the faculty into the central circle. At a final gesture the song leader, Margery Hornig, will hand her baton to the junior song leader, Jean Marien, who will lead the students in the school song. As the senior song leader is the only student allowed to lead the Alma Mater this completes the responsibilities of the seniors. This service each year is attended by a great number of people.

Lpsilon Delta Chi has chosen Orville Todd to succeed William Reardon as president for the coming year. The other new officers elected were Gladys Coy, vice president; Mildred LeFevre, recording secretary; Robert Stewart, corresponding secretary; and James Devel, treasurer.

Dr. Lawrence H. Van den Berg was the principal speaker at the Epsilon Delta Chi banquet held at the Clinton Hotel, Rosendale Friday night. The banquet ended the year's activities for the honorary teaching fraternity. Dancing concluded the evening's festivities. Several alumni members were present.

New Campus Officers

Campus organizations have elected new officers as follows: For the orchestra, President, John Rogers, vice president, Helen Bates, secretary, Alene Wheeler. The manager of orchestra is an appointive position and will be made later by the president. For Arts and Crafts, President, Emily Gregg, vice president, Emily Anderson, secretary, Mildred Rogers, treasurer, Mildred Radley, publicity manager, Jennie Bert.

Fraternity meetings will be held on Tuesday evening June 8, also the Kappa Delta meeting.

Kane Forfeits Bail, Fails to Appear

Joseph L. Kane of Albany, who posted $50 bail for appearance Tuesday before Justice Bennett at Saugerties to answer to a charge of assaulting an officer, failed to appear Tuesday and the bail was forfeited. Kane was arrested Sunday night at Saugerties following an automobile accident in which the car in which he was a passenger was involved. Following the accident Deputy Sheriff Edgar Brinkman of town of Ulster went to the scene and attempted to straighten out traffic and investigate the accident. Kane objected and it is alleged assaulted the peace officer who happened to be driving past the scene at the time.

Kane and Brinkman were engaged in a battle when Officer Mills of the Saugerties police department arrived and Kane was placed under arrest. Brinkman claims he displayed his sheriff badge when he went to the scene but Kane denied the claim and said he did not know Brinkman was an officer and charged that Brinkman took the license of the young woman who was driving the car and started away when Kane gave chase and overtook the officer and the fight ensued. The accident took place on Hill street in Saugerties.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Harsh, loose, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

EDISON'S NOTES.

At the time of Thomas Edison's death his own laboratories at West Orange, N. J., were closed and their contents left undisturbed. Now it has been decided to index and file his numerous notes, to make them available for other scientists. A curator and assistant, installed to start the work, found a difficult task. Many of the notes were written on cheap scrap paper or note books with inadequate bindings. Others were scribbled on the margins of books in his large library. Obviously the material could not be used in that condition and would not even survive long in disuse. But a way is found to save it all for posterity. Every page will be photographed for museum purposes. The originals will then be sealed in an air-tight vault in one of the modern buildings of the Edison Company.

Incidentally, study of those notes reveals a fact which may be consoling to some poor penmen. When Mr. Edison wrote at leisure he used a straight up-and-down style that resembled printing and was quite legible. When he wrote in a hurry, during an experiment, the writing became slanting with many flourishes. Persons acquainted with only one of these styles have challenged specimens of the other as not authentic. It is proved now that both are Edison's. Apparently there is no psychological quirk to worry about when the same person displays different styles of writing for different moods and purposes.

TOO MUCH EQUALITY?

The Imperial Conference which began in London immediately after the coronation and which will end its sessions on June 15 had not been having a particularly happy time. The dominion prime ministers applauded each other's proposals, but do not support them. A New York Times London correspondent explains the reason.

This Imperial Conference shows evidences of the weakness of the empire system in which Britain recognizes the full political equality of the Dominions guaranteed by the Statute of Westminster of 1931, but continues practically as their guardian and protector.

Now for the first time an Imperial Conference is being used to forward dominion aspirations rather than as background for solidifying British policy.

A MISCHIEVOUS TAX.

Wall Street happens to want the repeal of state and federal taxes on capital gains—that is, taxes on the increased value of property between the times of buying and selling. That fact may prevent such repeal, in spite of new efforts made in the New York state legislature and at Washington. The failure in the upper house of the New York legislature, writes Raymond Moley in his News Week, illustrates again the political handicaps under which advocates of such repeal always labor. He explains:

The taxation of capital gains places an obstacle in the way of profit-taking sales of securities, real estate and other goods. Thus it reduces the number of business transactions, freezes many forms of business activity and, at the same time, accentuates the dangers of the boom which the administration in Washington wants to prevent. The repeal of the tax would do much more to stabilize things than the issuance of statements about high prices. It would also, incidentally, produce more revenue.

It is hard, as he admits, "to make people understand that the repeal of a tax will yield more revenue than the tax itself." Yet that is exactly what is maintained by many disinterested experts having no connection with Wall Street.

COLLEGE MAN GAINS TIME

If there ever was a prejudice against college men in business, it exists no longer. Harold Young, for 10 years superintendent of personnel for the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, gives this testimony to the value of their college years:

Big business does not expect a college man to spend the same amount of time in developing, and in fact, college men are not started in the same class as high school graduates. The college graduate is about 22 years of age, and the training which he undergoes in the business organization takes less than three years. The high school student who enters business positions directly, however, doesn't start to develop until after nearly ten years, because of his immaturity and lack of education.

It looks like a clear gain of about three years for the average college graduate, as far as his business is concerned. And perhaps, as college men are inclined to think, the tangible gains are of some value, too.

REGULAR EXERCISE

I often think that as physicians we do not, as a rule, stress the wonderful value of regular exercise. Patients will be advised to "rest" more, to "eat" less, to "get away from work and take a vacation" but it is seldom that a physician will advise a patient to go to an athletic club, Y.M.C.A., or Y.W.C.A. and take regular exercise. He may be advised to play golf, but golf cannot always be played because of the weather, the distance to the golf links, and the time necessary to play a round of 18 holes.

Now outdoor exercise is always more beneficial than that taken indoors because there is more oxygen in the outdoor air to supply the extra oxygen needed when exercise is taken. However, outdoor exercise cannot always be obtained, due to weather conditions, whereas home exercises or indoor class work two or three times a week is always available; the gymnasium is there and the instructor also.

And it is the regularity of exercise that makes it so valuable. Exercise taken daily or not less than three times a week, means that the large blood vessels supplying the big bulk of muscle and the tiny blood vessels supplying the small individual muscle fibers must open widely to receive this blood. And the more widely these blood vessels open and the more often they open, the more the muscles increase in size and power.

As the little text book by La Grange states, "Systematic exercise of a muscle educates the little blood vessels supplying the muscle to not only open more widely during exercise, thus bringing an increased amount of blood to the muscle, but even when the muscle is at rest these blood vessels remain open to some extent (instead of closing) and the muscle gets the benefit of an increased amount of blood, even when it is not exercising. Hence the value of regular training, of systematic exercise."

Physiologists tell us that the number of open blood vessels (capillaries) in an active or exercising muscle may be twenty or more times as great as in a resting muscle.

And increasing the size and strength of the muscles is but a small part of the value of exercise. The exercise makes the heart beat faster and stronger to supply the extra blood needed, and the lungs must breathe in fresh air more often and more deeply to purify this extra blood that is needed. Getting in "condition" means exercising the muscles, which demand more blood from the heart, which demands more oxygen from the lungs. Regular home gymnasium exercise will pay a larger rate of interest for the time spent, than any other investment. When you can't golf or walk you can get exercise at home or at the gymnasium.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

SYNOPSIS: A mysterious shot kills Jud Blinshop, my old flame, at the start of our stormy weekend at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunt. After a series of strange attacks, we find the body of Michael's mad father below the bluff. Then, stout, Victorian Aunt Martha is shot in the shoulder and nearly finished with sleeping powder. Evidence piles up against Higgins, the old butler, and I reluctantly look him in his room. The Skipper, Mike's tall, tuxedoed younger aunt, disappears; we find her six hours later, bound in a chest in the dusty old loft.

Chapter 47

A Shot In Higgins' Room

"Get William," I wheezed. "Yell for him." Michael yelled, his voice ringing wildly through that empty loft. An answering roar came immediately from below, and the next instant William's head appeared through the trap.

"Get down a few rungs!" I panted. "Hurry—hurry—hurry!" William was quick and efficient. Slowly we lowered our limp bundle into his waiting arms. I followed him with Michael clattering behind me. I could hear M. Farrington's excited voice in William's room, interrupted by Gay's soothing one. I saw Annie, white and trembling, in Cook's doorway. But William was halfway down the corridor. I caught up with him as he strode into my room and laid his burden on my bed. His large hand went immediately to the Skipper's heart and stayed there for at least 10 seconds.

"Get a mirror," he said at length in a hushed voice. I leapt to obey him. Without a word he held the thing over the Skipper's nose and mouth. I was obliged to hold on to Michael to prevent interference. And then William turned the mirror up. It was covered with a fine mist.

His voice barked at us, "Open the window! Quick!" I did—and a great many other things in the next half hour, until I became violently ill myself—and had to be taken out.

William was just lowering the Skipper's head to the pillow as I reentered the room shakily a long time later. The glass he had handed Gay was empty, but the patient's face was still ghastly, her eyes closed, and her breathing now painfully audible from across the room. I caught sight of Michael. Heads of perspiration were standing out on his forehead. His hands were clenched, his eyes shut.

I went out into the hall, groping for a cigarette and trying to deafen my ears to the sounds from the other room. I had had enough. Even the thought of the approaching hour of reckoning failed to move me. The Skipper would tell her story. The police would come. And for my part at that moment, I didn't care what she might tell them or what they might do about it. I was through. Or so I thought.

It must have been a good 10 minutes before I realized that Michael had joined me. "Got a cigarette?" he said. The gloomy vigil had just begun. After a long time I became conscious of the scene outside the window. The trees along the drive were standing out in sharp relief. I could even see the outline of the drive itself in the misty gray light. My watch said five minutes of six. We were within a few hours of the end.

"It's getting light, Mike," I said pointlessly.

A Hollow Feeling

MICHAEL, staring fixedly out of the window, didn't stir. I put an impulsive hand on his shoulder, half expecting it to be shaken off. It wasn't. And so we stood there. A hollow feeling in my middle and a lightness in my head spelled breakfast, but I had a feeling that once confronted with food I would not be able to eat it. Suddenly I wanted to get back into that sick-room to find out whatever it was that had happened. I didn't like to propose that to Michael and I didn't like to leave him alone.

A hand falling on my arm made me jump. Gay was standing there. "She's going to be all right. She's asleep finally."

Michael spun around. "Are you sure? It may be hours before we can get a doctor."

"Of course I'm sure. Her breathing is all right now and her pulse is good. I took it myself. Mike—" Her voice was doing things that could not be put into a sentimental interlude. I interrupted peevishly.

"Did she say anything?" Gay glanced at me briefly. "She said she was sorry to be such a damned nuisance. If anyone should happen to ask me, I'd say we got out of this pretty damned lucky."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This may annoy you, but there's only one river in the vicinity of New York—indeed, the Hudson river, East river, Harlem river, etc.

Actually (so I'm assured, although I still am a wee bit skeptical), the Hudson becomes a river only beyond Albany, the state capital. . . . Between Albany and Manhattan it is affected by the ocean tides and so is a part of the Atlantic.

Then the East river is merely a channel connecting Long Island sound and New York bay. . . . And the Harlem is, properly, the Harlem Ship canal. . . . So that leaves only one river, the Bronx, which originates in the hills of Westchester and continues through the Bronx until it empties into East river. . . . Such a lot of silly disturbance over nothing at all!

THERE'S a magic company in existence since 1899. The company carries over 4,000 gadgets with which the magician may astound their audiences—everything from rabbits and tall hats to miniature poodles which they extract from nice old ladies' ears.

Ex-President Hoover has always been fascinated by magicians, and tricks involving money leave him spellbound. . . . The late President Coolidge, and the former King Edward VIII are numbered among those entranced by feats of magic.

This might be a tropic island if one considered the birds sold here—more than a million canaries are retailed every three months. . . . And there are plenty of parrots, but they run into money. . . . A bird that is edging in on the canary's popularity, however, is the imported finch. . . . Many varieties are imported, and they say this little fellow is a better songster than the canary. . . . About $3 will get you a nice pair of them, if you're at all finch-minded.

STYLES in canine pets, like hats or frocks, change with the seasons, and the dachshunds at the moment are having their inning. Two seasons ago it was Scotties, and before that, wirehairs. . . . Sheep dogs are coming in now, however, and other varieties of long-haired woolly hounds which are huge but docile.

My favorite of all dogs is the setter, although it is almost a sin to keep one in the metropolitan area. . . . These fellows need plenty of ground to range about in, and I think nothing is so sad as a fine, strapping hunting dog being led down these baked cement streets, tethered to some damsel by a fancy, colored leash.

There used to be a girl here who led a duck about the streets, but I haven't encountered her in over a year. . . . You never see organ grinders with monkeys in New York any more, either.

The Goldfinch's Invitation

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WILLY NILLY and the Puddle Muddlers left the orioles and drove along a little further until Willy Nilly heard someone calling to him.

"You're going to stop and pay us a visit, aren't you?"

"Why Mr. Wild Canary?" exclaimed Willy Nilly.

"You used a name I seldom hear," answered the bird who had been calling the little man. "Almost always I'm known as the goldfinch, although wild canary is also one of my names."

"Haven't you sometimes been called a thistle bird?" asked Willy Nilly.

"Yes," chirped the bird, "because I build my nest of thistle down—that is, we both do this, and we like plants and grasses out of which to build as well. Isn't this a nice willow tree place for our home?"

"Willy Nilly," called another voice. "I don't wear the beautiful yellow feathers of my mate. He has such fine wings of black and white, but I'm too busy to bother about fine feathers."

"Only I don't want to miss seeing you. I'm very sociable." Willy Nilly had some seeds for the goldfinches and then he said: "Mr. Goldfinch, won't you sing me a little song?"

And the goldfinch sang. He trilled and he chirped, and he sang lovely throaty notes very much as a canary would sing—but then he tried something too hard for him and his voice sounded shrill and off-key.

"I'm always trying songs beyond me," he explained sadly. "Never mind," said Willy Nilly. "Try again." And this time the song was perfect.

RECIPE FOR BURGLARS

If You Want Them—Pull Shades Down

Albany, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—Take it from a police chief—the way to attract burglars to your home during vacations is to lower all the window shades.

Chief of Police David Smurl warned Albany residents to leave shades at "half-mast" when they go on summer vacations out of town.

More than 5,000,000 young trees are being planted in Missouri for erosion control and reforestation.

—COUNTY— Christian Endeavor NEWS —

Minnewaska Service.

The annual vesper service sponsored by the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union, will inaugurate the fall activities of the county group on September 12, at Lake Minnewaska. Some prominent speakers will feature the program, which has been most impressive in past years and has proven very popular with all Endeavorers who have attended.

Syracuse Convention. Crosby Wilkin, convention booster for Ulster county, reports that he has received 11 registrations for the Syracuse convention that will be held on July 1-4. This number exceeds that of last year by six, indicating an increased interest in state activities on the part of the local Endeavorers. There is still time to register, and persons who may desire to participate should notify Crosby Wilkin at Gardiner.

County Picnic. The annual county picnic, held at Tilton Lake on Saturday, June 5, turned out to be an enjoyable occasion for a number of Christian Endeavorers. Miss Frances Roosa of New Paltz had charge of the program.

State Census Blanks. There are a few societies that have not turned in their state census blanks. A complete report cannot be sent into the state office until all societies have cooperated in the return of these filled out forms. Donald H. Smith, 28 Oak street, Kingston, corresponding secretary of the county union, has charge of this project and desires that these delinquent Endeavorers send their reports in to him as soon as possible.

Vacation Time for Column. This is the final appearance of this column for the season, completing two years of publication as the only regular column devoted to Christian Endeavor news listed with the state board. It has been the policy to keep the Endeavorers of this vicinity acquainted with the programs of the individual societies and the activities sponsored by the county union, and to this end the cooperation of those who send in various news items has been appreciated.

Convention Delegation. The Christian Endeavor Society of the Port Ewen Reformed Church held a meeting Thursday evening, June 3, and selected Wilma Laysa, Betty Walker and Warren Ferguson as a delegation to represent the society at the New York State Convention at Syracuse on July 1-4.

There are many ways in which our work could have been carried on to better advantage, but we hope we have learned by experience, and that our future leaders will do bigger and better things.

I wish to extend a personal word of thanks to all ministers, fellow officers, and society leaders with whom it has been such a pleasure to work. They have all given me willingly of their time and facilities.

We look forward to seeing many of you at Syracuse from July 1 to 4, and to meeting together at Minnewaska on September 12 at our annual vesper service.

May you have a very happy summer, wherever you may be.

MARY LANGWICK,
 President, Ulster County Union.

Reception for New Stone Ridge Pastor

Stone Ridge, June 9.—The Rev. Frederick Baker and family were given a reception on Friday evening at the M. E. Church. About 40 were present from Atwood, Kripplush and Stone Ridge. Ross K. Osterhoudt was chairman of the program which opened with congregational singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," with Miss Frances Pine at the piano. Those present from the choirs of the three churches rendered "Take Time to Be Holy."

Mr. Osterhoudt introduced as the first speaker Percy Knapp of Yorkers, an old time friend of the M. E. Church, although he is not of that denomination. Mr. and Mrs. Knapp are always welcomed to Stone Ridge for their vacations by a host of friends.

Mr. Knapp gave a most interesting and helpful talk and made clear the fact that Christianity should be made practical.

The choir sang "Beautiful Words of Jesus." The Rev. Harold Hoffman of the Stone Ridge Reformed Dutch Church was introduced and spoke words that were most helpful and much needed. The Rev. Mr. Hoffman spoke of the cooperation and spirit of loyalty that has existed during his year here between the Reformed and Methodist churches and felt sure it would continue.

The program continued with congregational singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." Mr. Osterhoudt then called on the new pastor, the Rev. Frederick Baker, who spoke very effectively and said he was much pleased with the loyalty he had received from the entire church. He stated the goal of the pastor for the Kingdom of God. We should see our task as we are all a part of a great spiritual work. He also emphasized the necessity of prayer as it moves the hands of God in His own great cause.

The Rev. Mr. Baker closed by saying he felt he and the Rev. Hoffman should work together for the salvation of souls in this community and was pleased with the cooperation already given him.

Mr. Osterhoudt then called on Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Baker responded by saying she felt it her duty to keep the home comfortable and do what she could to keep the minister happy so he would be at his best to do his work and she was willing to do all she could to help him in his duties as pastor.

Mr. Baker stated his wife was his unpaid secretary and constructive critic.

After singing "Abide with Me," the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Baker and a social hour and refreshments followed.

Belated pedestrians passing Glens Falls High School on a recent night were startled by what seemed a rare astronomical phenomenon over the school. But they knew that while mars shines red and bright in the skies this month, it is no double planet. The police were summoned. A top the school flag-pole they found two red lanterns, hung there by devil pranksters.

at Washington and Columbus, O., provided the only cheer in the grim conflict which has kept 73,000 workers idle.

New York, June 9, (AP)—Widening of strike areas cast a blanket over a quiet and uneven stock market today.

Except for specialties and ship-building issues which displayed moderate power on the upside, the list drifted fractions to a point or so lower.

With Wall street watching attempts to settle the power strike in the Saginaw Valley of Michigan, trading came frequently to a complete standstill during the afternoon.

Trading ran at the rate of about 750,000 shares for the full session.

Good performers most of the time U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Spiegel, Coco Cola, Champion Paper, Procter & Gamble, Celanese, Pennsylvania, Cerro De Pasco, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Inspiration Copper, American Telephone and Consolidated Edison.

Lacking energy were Chrysler, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, General Electric, Baltimore & Ohio and Northern Pacific.

Wheat lost part of a brisk early gain. Corn and Cotton were droopy, the pound sterling was up, the French franc down.

Administration plans for construction a subsidized merchant fleet brought brisk demand for shipbuilding equities but the buying lacked staying power. Shares to be fore were American Shipbuilding and New York Shipbuilding.

Confronted with a strike in subsidiary plants of General Motors, the stock bumped to a new low for the year.

The current decline in steel business was ascribed in part to seasonal slackening in the automobile industry where preparation for the change-over to new models is under way.

SEDAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DROP DOWN 20-FOOT BANK

A Packard sedan and its occupants had a close call to coming to grief about noon Tuesday, when it was forced off the road near the railroad station at High Mount and came to a stop against the fence that bordered a steep bank with a drop of 20 feet or more.

The Packard, owned and driven by William R. Niles of Hicksville, was being driven south when at the brow of a hill it met a Brockway truck and trailer owned by John A. Carman of Prattville and driven by Everett D. Todd of the same place, which was going north. At the same time a machine drawn by a team of horses was mowing the shoulders of the road. Niles had to choose between leaving the road or smashing head-on into the truck and took the first alternative.

No injuries were reported to Deputy Sheriff Arthur Brown, who happened along about the time of the accident and made an investigation. There were no arrests.

Civil Suits Over Trees

New City, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—County Attorney Ernest W. Hofstatter of Nyack said today Rockland County and a number of towns in the county would bring civil suits against the New York World's Fair Commission over the removal of trees from municipally owned roadside property. Hofstatter charged the Fair Commission was civilly responsible for the removals because, he said, they were delivered to the commission to transplanting on the grounds on which the Fair will be held in 1939. He said he would seek replacement of the trees, repairs to property and civil damages where trees were not replaced.

Brown Murder Case Trial Scheduled to Begin Thursday

An extra panel of 100 trial jurors will report to County Judge Frederick G. Traver Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for service at the June term of county court. The trial of Charles James Brown, Ellenville negro, will be taken up as the first criminal case of the term.

Brown is charged with murder, first degree, for the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Handelman at their home in Ellenville last April 8.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray will present evidence hoping to prove that Brown left his boarding house and armed with a piece of automobile pinion gear went to the Handelman residence on Pine street, Ellenville, and there entered the house and attempted to rob Handelman of his money. Handelman was engaged in the business of buying junk and was known to have some money on the premises at all times for the conduct of his business. Shortly before the crime he disposed of a quantity of junk and was supposed to have had a considerable sum in the house. It is alleged that Brown went to the bedroom of the aged couple and demanded money. When Handelman and his wife awoke it is charged Brown struck them with the pinion gear which was later found on an adjacent property covered with blood.

In his search for money Brown it is alleged lighted matches to search under the bedding after he had assaulted the aged couple. The bedding it is charged caught fire and Brown did not tarry to extinguish the fire.

Later when the fire department had extinguished the blaze a search was made for Mr. and Mrs. Handelman and the bodies were found in the bedroom, burned almost beyond recognition.

A search of the house revealed the rear door open and other suspicious circumstances led police and District Attorney Murray to believe the aged couple had been murdered. Later the blood covered pinion gear was found and a search was begun for Brown. He had gone to Port Jervis and refused to return to Ellenville. When it became known he had displayed money in Port Jervis a state wide search was begun and his travels were traced to Middletown where he disappeared. A couple of days later he showed up at the Orange County Home and asked for food and was apprehended and returned to Ellenville by Sheriff Molyneux. Later he was held for the murders and the grand jury returned two first degree indictments.

Apparel for Those Week-end
Motor Trips

About this time of year the urge to get going comes over your household and your spouse will say to you, "Let's take a week-end trip in the car."

You'll have no other course but to have the motor overhauled, whip up a sensible motoring wardrobe, and resign yourself to a life of hotdog stands, chicken dinners, state police, and bill-board greetings from various chambers of commerce.

We know of no better all-purpose suit for summer wear than the double-breasted solid grey flannel. No matter where you go or what you do, it is a smart, practical investment. With it, we are showing a tweed cap in shepherd's check. Be sure that you get one with a one-piece flat top that will make you look like a gentleman. If you are relegated to the rumble seat, you'll find the cap is indispensable.

Choose shirts in a zephyr or air conditioned fabric—a good stunt is the no-button type with convertible neckline that can be worn with collar open or with a tie. Tan or blue is more practical than white on the road.

For long stretches at the wheel, we suggest ventilated pigskin driving gloves, gauntlet style. Pigskin wears like iron, and doesn't slip.

If you must smoke when driving, better invest in a pipe with practical top that slips over the bowl, keeping the ashes from flying all over Mama.

If you expect to stop off at a smart hotel en route, better take a white dinner jacket of some lightweight summer fabric.

ric, worn with regulation black dress trousers in worsted, or of the same lightweight summer fabric of your dinner jacket. If you have a single-breasted, shawl collar jacket, wear it with a soft collared, silk shirt and a black silk cummerbund.

When you are driving, it's a good idea to wear an odd pair of slacks with the jacket of your flannel suit. Gabardine is a good bet, as it holds its shape, despite hours in the driver's seat, and doesn't muss readily.

You may want to wear a sleeveless pullover sweater instead of your coat. Wine color is not only smart but practical.

Get shoes in brown reverse calf with crope soles. You don't have to bother having them polished, just brush up with a wire brush, or a better trick yet, with on old hair brush—these are kinder to the leather.

Better take a raincoat along. We suggest the model shown in gabardine, with an inverted pleat that is really a vent in disguise. Keeps the rain off in fine order.

What a Man!
Some fellows can get away with anything. There's one in our neighborhood that does.
Morals don't mean a thing to him. He's unmarried, and lives openly with a woman he's crazy about; and doesn't care what the neighbors say or think. He has no regard for truth or law.
The duties of the so-called good citizen are just so much bunk as far as he's concerned. He doesn't vote at either the primaries or the general election. He never thinks of paying a bill.
We have seen him take a $2 taxi ride without giving the driver so much as a pleasant look. The driver only stared at him and muttered something silly.
He won't work a lick; he won't go to church; he can't play cards, or dance, or fool around with musical instruments or the radio. So far as known, he has no intellectual or cultural interests at all.
He neglects his appearance terribly. He's so indolent he'd let the house burn down before he'd turn in an alarm. The telephone can ring itself to pieces and he wouldn't bother to answer it. Even on such a controversial subject as the liquor question, nobody knows exactly where he stands, because one minute he's dry, and the next minute he's wet.
But we'll say this for him, in spite of all his faults he comes from a very good family.
He's our new baby.

Mother—Now Junior, you know all you have to do is to keep on saying to yourself, "It tastes good! It tastes good!" and it won't be hard to take at all.
Junior (suddenly having an inspiration)—Mother, I know a better thing to say. I'll say, "I've already taken it!" I've already taken it!" and then I shan't have to take it at all.

Wife (interrupting)—You see, how many times have I told you not to smoke!

Broadway—"The Good Old Soak." Comedy of the homey type comes to the Broadway with Wallace Beery in the title role and doing a grand job in a part tailor made to his talents. It is all about a worthless, drunken old fellow who seems a complete nonentity but who turns out to be a pretty shrewd fellow after all. A talented supporting cast includes George Sidney, Ted Healy, Una Merkel, Eric Linden, Betty Furness, Judith Barrett and Janet Beecher. An M-G-M comedy success directed by J. Walter Ruben.

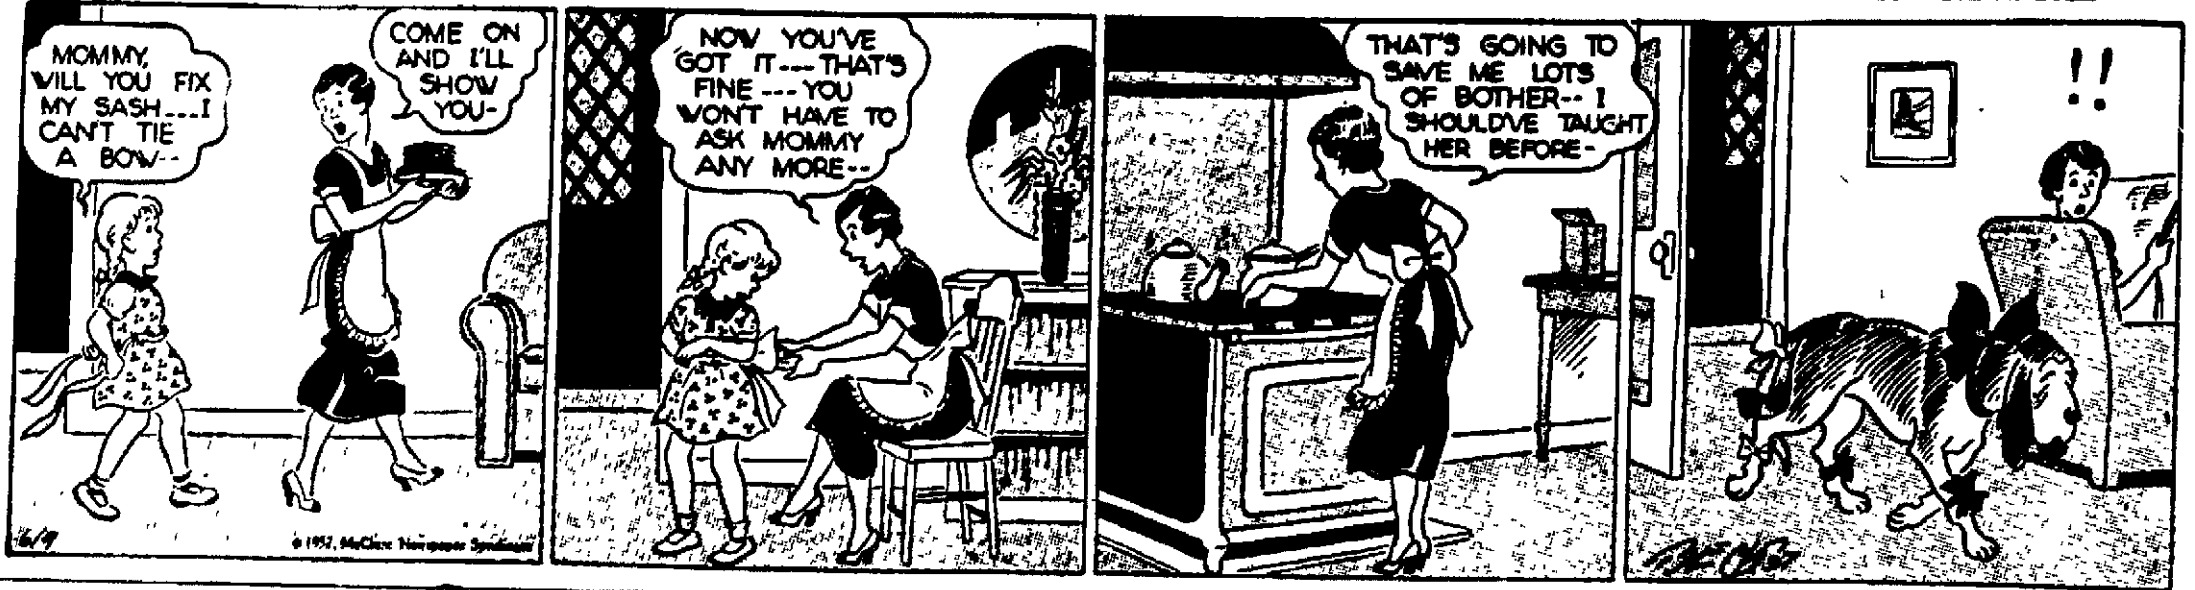

Kingston—"Modern Times" and "Draggerman Courage." The greatest comic of his day invades the Kingston theatre after a long wait, and those who haven't seen Charles Chaplin's latest cinema masterpiece will find it an intelligent blend of satire on mass production plus some of the funniest situations ever recorded by a camera. Also tragedy and brilliant acting and a new star in Paulette Goddard. There is the spark of genius in this production and although the play has its dull moments, it is nevertheless one of the important films to see and Mr. Chaplin continues to rank as the world's most popular comedian. "Draggerman Courage" is the other full length attraction with Jean Muir.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

The sets of three coronation stamps issued by 45 British colonies had remarkable first day sales, if Jamaica is a fair example.
In this colony the 1 penny carmine, 1½-p gray and 2½-p blue went on sale May 12, Coronation Day, and the post office was swamped. Approximately 96,000 sets were sold in Jamaica that day. Of these, according to the Jamaica Daily Gleaner, about 40,000 were affixed to first day covers and registered, while about 20,000 were mailed by ordinary post.

Honoring Virginia Dare

A 5-cent Virginia Dare stamp to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the birth of the first child of English parentage in America will be issued August 18, the anniversary of her birth. A celebration is planned at Roanoke Island, N. C., the same day.

Virginia's father, Ananias Dare, married Eleanor, the daughter of John White. White was the governor of Virginia sent over by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1587. The expedition arrived at Hatteras in July and settled on Roanoke Island. In the colony were 91 men, 17 women, 9 children. Next month Virginia was born.

A few days later Governor White sailed back to England for fresh supplies. When he returned three years later, he could find no trace of the colonists. History does not know whether Virginia died with her parents, or was adopted by Indians.

The Alaska-Hawaii-Puerto Rico-Virgin Islands issue is still on the upcoming list, though it is not expected to follow the army-navy set immediately. Plate numbers for the 5-cent army stamp, which went on sale May 26 at West Point, are 21680 and 21681; those for the navy stamp, which appeared first at Annapolis, 21684 and 21685.

Honduran President

For the third time, General Tiburcio Carías Andino, president of Honduras, appears on stamps from his republic.

The latest set of four large bi-colored adhesives was issued to commemorate the extension of his term of office from February, 1937, to January, 1943. Carías took office February 1, 1933. He has been active in Honduran politics many years, running for the presidency in 1923 and 1928.

The stamps show a bridge named for General Carías, in addition to his quarter-length portrait in a medallion. The dates 1933-1943 appear in the upper corners, and beneath Carías' picture are three words in Spanish—"Peace Work Science."

Denominations are: 6-centavo rose carmine and olive; 21-cent green and purple, 46-cent orange and brown; 55-cent blue and black. The three high values are intended to pay airport fees, but carry no words to say so. Carías' head, and that of Vice President Williams, appeared on a set of four Honduran stamps issued in 1933 to commemorate their inauguration. Again in 1935, Carías was depicted on a 2-centavo stamp.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

New York—Dust tries to run away from heat. That is, if there is a hot wire in a bulb full of air, and the walls of the bulb are cooler than the wire, dust inside will deposit on the walls.

The dust rushes away from the hot wire. This fact, discovered by Tyndall many years ago, now promises to become useful—to give the medical profession something like 60 new kinds of artificial radium.

Artificial radium can be produced in nearly all the 92 natural chemical substances by electric bombardment. But it can't always be extracted. At the Imperial College of Science and Technology in London it has been discovered that artificial radium particles, trying to get away from a hot wire, fall like rain out of dusts or gases containing them.

Employment Permits

Kingston High School students who are desirous of securing employment in some capacity during the summer vacation period must abide by the regulations in force. Mr. Culver, vice principal of the local high school, definitely stated that regular employment papers must be secured for work at ages 16 and 17. Pupils aged 14 and 15 must secure vacation work permits which are valid until September 1, in order to be allowed to pursue any form of employment during the summer season.

Mr. Culver outlined the proper procedure to be followed in obtaining a vacation work permit during a recent assembly. The parent or guardian of the prospective student employee must make a personal application for the vacation work permit at the high school office. Upon securing the permit from the school authorities, the paper must be presented to the employer or place of employment for certification. Students must be physically examined by the school physician at the high school medical room either on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons at 3 o'clock. A record of birth, baptismal certificate or other legal document must also be presented to complete the application process. The above procedure must be followed in detail by the applicants and proper heed of the instructions should eliminate the uncertainty prevalent in the past week as to the proper steps in securing necessary papers.

Maroon Distribution

Mr. Dumm, principal of Kingston High School, stated that the 1937 Maroon, Senior Class year-book published annually by the graduates, would be distributed to the student body at the close of the fourth period, Friday morning, June 11.

Actually, something did happen during the making of that picture.

I found that I was able to break away from Lombard and be the person I was supposed to be on the screen. I dropped the last vestige of my self-consciousness.

But I did not plan just to be funny from that time on.

I think I showed that pretty clearly when I stepped into "Swing High, Swing Low." I was a comic character in that one. But more than that, I hope. There was considerable footage of tragic stuff. After all, you can't be very funny when you're playing a girl in love with someone, and that someone is a bum, and walking out of your life on top of that.

My new picture is "True Confession." It'll have humor and plenty of it. But I'm certainly not going to run riot on one single shade of emotion when there are so many more in the book. I'm going to sample quite a few of them. The script isn't being written "to make the lines sound as if Lombard would say them." It's being written for a character I'm going to play.

Why? Because I'm not going to type myself. Typing means standing still. The public says, "There's no use seeing her again. I've seen her last three pictures and they're all alike."

Aims For 'Surprises'

The idea, in Hollywood, is always to be new and slightly different. I'll be all right as long as the public says, "She's full of surprises." When I don't surprise them, you can count me out. That's why I got sore when somebody wrote "From now on she's going to be funny." It might just as well have been, "She's going to be the same forever." That's practically libel, in this business.

Understand, I know my limitations. I don't care for "prestige" pictures. I don't want to do a film which is supposed to be epic, colossal, or terrific. I can't imagine myself a Duse or a Bernhardt. I'll leave that to the other little girls. But you can depend on this: as long as there's breath in the body, I'll try to make people say: "Have you seen the latest edition of Lombard?"

western picture. For this show is far from average. It is one of last year's outstanding hits as it flames with the spirit of the days of Buffalo Bill, Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane. The Indian fights are real and brilliant, and the story centers around the love of Calamity Jane for Wild Bill, a love that dies in tragedy. Gary Cooper, Jean Arthur, Fred Kohler and James Ellison are prominent in the cast and Cecil B. DeMille directed.

There have been 12 serious influenza epidemics in the United States since the World War.

Today
Broadway—"The Good Old Soak." Comedy of the homey type comes to the Broadway with Wallace Beery in the title role and doing a grand job in a part tailor made to his talents. It is all about a worthless, drunken old fellow who seems a complete nonentity but who turns out to be a pretty shrewd fellow after all. A talented supporting cast includes George Sidney, Ted Healy, Una Merkel, Eric Linden, Betty Furness, Judith Barrett and Janet Beecher. An M-G-M comedy success directed by J. Walter Ruben.

Kingston—"Modern Times" and "Draggerman Courage." The greatest comic of his day invades the Kingston theatre after a long wait, and those who haven't seen Charles Chaplin's latest cinema masterpiece will find it an intelligent blend of satire on mass production plus some of the funniest situations ever recorded by a camera. Also tragedy and brilliant acting and a new star in Paulette Goddard. There is the spark of genius in this production and although the play has its dull moments, it is nevertheless one of the important films to see and Mr. Chaplin continues to rank as the world's most popular comedian. "Draggerman Courage" is the other full length attraction with Jean Muir.

Orpheum—"The Plainsman." The growth of the west is brought to the Orpheum screen with a sweep and a grandeur seldom seen in the average

DuBlase Anxious About Battle With Romano Here on Friday

Johnny DuBlase, Albany featherweight, matched with Danny Romano, Beacon boxer, for five rounds Friday at the Auditorium, is anxious for the opening gong.

"I want to show the Kingston fans that I can fight," he said. "That bout of mine with Kid Chapple gave them the wrong impression, I think."

DuBlase fought Chapple last winter, and lost by a knockout, going down from a clip on the chin that the Kingston boy allegedly delivered after the bell had ended the round, rendering the Albany unit to continue the scrap.

There was considerable controversy about the matter, and DuBlase was anxious to meet Chapple again to settle the matter of supremacy. However, they never came together.

DuBlase considers Romano a worthy opponent on which to prove that he had the goods, although the Beaconite lost two decisions to Chapple. The Kid outpointed Danny last Friday, according to the judges, but some of the customers differed.

Romano is a slugger, a battler that bores in from going to gong, and should give DuBlase the acid test. Danny wants to win in Kingston, too, having dropped a couple of scraps at the Broadway Punch Bowl, one to Chapple and the other to Mario Severino.

Severino is on Friday's card, also, and his return to Kingston is expected to help fill the arena. The popular Baby Face scrapper is a big favorite here, and his match with Pete Gama of Newburgh is creating a lot of comment, indicating that there will be many of his rooters at the ringside and in the bleachers.

There are four five rounders, slated as main bouts, on the card, the others being between Joe Furlin, Middletown middleweight, and Jackie Feldman, Schenectady battler, and Johnny Bleski, Scotia's Polish Bomber, and Sergeant Perry, West Point Cavalryman. These two scraps are return engagements that the fans have been clamoring for quite a while.

There are seven bouts in all, and the lineup promises plenty of action for the fans who turn out to the Municipal Auditorium Friday night.

CONTENDERS FOR WOMEN'S GOLF CROWN

Charlotte Glutting, former New Jersey champion (right), led early finishers in the first round of the women's eastern golf championship. She was out in 41 and back in 36 for a 77. Miss Jean Bauer (center) of Providence, R. I., a member of the Curtis Cup Team, was close behind with a 78. Mrs. Marion Turple Lake of Plainfield, N. Y. (left), former champion, was fourth among the early finishers, with an 82. Play was over the Plainfield N. J., Country Club Course.

Berardis and Rosendale Clash In City League Tilt Tonight

The Kingston City Baseball League will resume activities at the Athletic Field this evening, at 6:15 o'clock, when the Berardi A. C. and Rosendale come together, displaying some new talent.

Three new faces will appear in each lineup, and this additional talent is expected to enliven the performances of both clubs, consequently furnishing the fans with a lot more action.

With Berardi brigade will be Tommy Maines, Chapple Van Derzee and Charlie Bock, recruited from the Kingston High School DUSO championship squad.

Newcomers in the Rosendale diamond army will be F. Neff, Ed Murphy and Bill Hornbeck.

Announcement of the acquisition of new talent is expected to help pack the Athletic field with spectators for tonight's baseball bill.

Rosendale will use Davi Rask on the mound with H. Neff behind the plate, it is presumed. Spot Cullen or Charlie Bock will toss for Berardi and George Zadany will catch.

Last night's contest between the Kyanize and Grunwalds was waived in favor of the game at Newburgh between the pick of the Kingston League and the Recreation Stars. Playing at the downriver park, the Kingstonians put up a thrilling battle and have been invited back to settle the 5-5 tie.

"I'd like to bring this Newburgh team to Kingston," said Secretary Jack Hartman after the game, "but I'm ashamed to invite the Newburgh boys up to play under the existing conditions."

Recreation Park compares favorably with any of the ball yards in the country, not excluding the major leagues, and has every comfort for the fans and all conveniences for the players, showers, rest rooms and real dugouts.

Kingston's representatives picked by Jack Robins, former old Colonial star, agreed that playing in a park like Newburgh's was a great inspiration.

Look at that field, remarked the team, and we can't even get enough bleachers to accommodate the fans at the Athletic Field.

Vince Stoll, New Ball Captain, Leads K.H.S. Batters with .419

Vince Stoll, newly elected captain of the 1937 Kingston High School diamond squad, paced the current array of Maroon and White willow artists with a brilliant batting average of .419. Stoll, who was selected by his mates as the captain for next season's forces, lead the DUSO champions batting attack during the nine-game campaign. The smooth-working backstop, the most improved diamond cavorter on the squad, paced the pill for 13 hits in 31 trips to the platter. Stoll played in every inning but one of the campaign and lead the squad in the slugging department according to statistics.

Tommy Maines, sterling third sacker, trailed Stoll closely as he laid the wood on the ball for a cool .412 average. Maines made one more safe slap than Stoll, 14, but strolled to the triangle 34 times to give him second place in the individual percentages. Charlie Bock, ace hurler, racked up 12 bingles in 34 trips for a neat .353 mark, while Jimmy Ashdown, fleet left-fielder, banged out an even dozen safeties in 35 efforts, for a .343 count.

Only four Maroon regulars gained the coveted .300 circle during the recent schedule with most of the first-string players languishing in a slump throughout most of the card. The majority of the varsity veterans slid below the .250 mark but came through with timely wallops to atone for the puny batting records. Ashdown paced the hitters during the opening phases of the slate but Stoll and Maines came up with a rush in the closing weeks to wrest the honor spots away from the clever-fielding left gardener.

Jimmy Ashdown carted the most runs across the rubber triangle, scoring on 11 occasions. Captain Chapple Van Derzee and Charlie Bock brought in 10 tallies apiece with Maines registering eight times.

Coley, Van Derzee and Ashdown made the most trips to the plate with each facing the opposing hurlers 35 official times. Six regulars appeared in all contests of the nine-game slate, of which KHS copied six and lost three. The Maroon captured its second successive DUSO diamond title and made the first clean sweep in the league's history.

Maines and Bock collected the most hits in one game, four apiece. Charlie Bock led in the runs-batted-in credits, driving home 10 KHS men in the pinches with Maines rapping across nine. Stoll socked out four two-baggers, while Ashdown, Stoll and Maines had two apiece. Ashdown collected the lone home run for the locals in the Alumni game. The complete batting averages and individual leaders in the offensive departments as compiled by The Freeman follows:

The Hercules softballers chalked up their sixth consecutive win in the City League by trimming Canfields 13-1 at the Fair Grounds.

Hertica pitched spectacular ball for Hercules, allowing Canfields but two hits in the six innings he performed on the mound while the powdermen touched Tinnie for 17 safeties.

Ken Newell banged out a homer while A. Maurer collected three and Murphy four safeties for Hercules.

Batteries: Hercules, Hertica and Kennedy; Canfields, Tinnie and Cudney.

In their City League game last night, the Telcos belted out a 9-5 victory over the Universals as Petro featured with the stick, and Hankinson turned in a good pitching performance. Petro registered a triple for the Wire Winders, and Hankinson chalked up three strikeouts. Kaley and Colvin formed the Universal battery.

J. Y. A.-Clermonts Tie

In a gingery battle at Block Park, the Jewish Youth Alliance and Clermonts No. 2 fought to a 9-9 tie.

The Clermonts overcame a 5-0 advantage held by the Jewish Youths, early in the contest, and near the finish knotted the tally again at 9-all, preventing the Hebrews from coming out on the heavy end of a 9-5 score.

Sam Marcus made two homers for the Hebrews. J. Marcus pitched for the J. Y. A. and Boice for the Clermonts.

22 Maroon Athletes Awarded Varsity K's This Morning

This morning the Kingston High School Athletic Association awarded varsity insignia to the 1937 baseball, tennis and golf squadrons in a special awards assembly. Miss Evelyn Olivet, president of the A. A. council, presided over the presentation ceremonies as 22 athletes of the three varsity combines received the coveted "K". 13 members of the DUSO championship baseball nine, four tennis and golf squad members and the intra-mural manager, Jack Lurie, were the recipients of the major insignia.

Miss Olivet opened the athletic letter presentation by citing the splendid record compiled by the various athletic legions of K. H. S. during the recently completed season. The first clean sweep of all three DUSO championships in baseball, basketball and football was registered this season when the localities turned the trick Saturday. The minor sports combines rang up the most favorable record in recent years to make the sports year a complete success.

Thirteen varsity baseball campaigners were the initial recipients of the major emblems. The A. A. leader rendered appropriate individual resumes of the players and cited the record of the diamond cavorters. Captain Chapple Van Derzee, Captain-elect Vince Stoll, Charley Bock, Ed Schoonmaker, Earl Sleight, Jack Halstein, Tom McManus, George Coley, Tommy Maines, Jim Ashdown, Tony Rua, Ray Schneider and Manager Eddie Safford were presented with letters and gold baseball emblems in return for a DUSO titular campaign.

Junior varsity emblems were presented to the following members of the second team: Bob Halstein, Ken Hornbeck, Henry Tiano, Joe Kreppel, George Schirick, Tony Berinato, Gus Brinnier, Harry Mickle, Al Decker, Jack Strubel, George Celuch, Howie Brooks and Ray Lindhurst. The 1937 tennis squadrons, which cavorted through a successful schedule under the able guidance of Coach Joseph Bock, featured the installation of the first four-letter man in recent history when George Rifenbary received his fourth major letter. Rifenbary was All-DUSO football center, left guard on the basketball team, shot putter on the track combine and No. 4 man on the tennis team. Bernie Gordon, Billy Newkirk and Artie Jones were the other varsity letter earners on the court array.

Coach J. Watson Bailey's golf unit presented four letter-earners with Captain Bob Cole, Manager Jim Decker, Bill Well and Bob Boice earning the major "K". The three squads have a wealth of material returning next season and prospects for another trio of championships are bright. Mr. Dumm, principal, extended his congratulations to the coaching staff and teams for the fine records compiled and lauded the students for their cooperation. The award assembly was the first mass presentation feature in recent years and was enacted this morning preceding regular school sessions. Cross-country, baseball, basketball and football complete the list of championship squadrons turned out by the local school for the greatest sweep in Hudson Valley sports history.

Kingston City Leaguers and Newburghers Battle to 5-5 Tie

Scenesifter and Reaping Reward Are in the Spotlight

New York, June 9 (AP)—Now that War Admiral, the "triple crown" winner, and Pommern, his erstwhile shadow, are on the sidelines for at least two months, Maxwell Howard's Scenesifter and Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Reaping Reward figure to dictate the outcome of the rich three-year old stakes.

Both embark Saturday on campaigns designed to bring them together June 26 in the $25,000 American Derby for their first clash since the Kentucky Derby. They'll then move on to Arlington Park for the $50,000 classic late in July.

Scenesifter, which moved up from fifth in the Derby to second back of the Admiral in the Belmont Stakes, will start in the mile of the $5,000 Shelvin Stakes at Aqueduct. If he runs a good race, Earl Sande, trainer of the J. E. Widener Castoff, will whip him into the reaper's backyard for the American Derby.

Reaping Reward, a better horse in the opinion of Trainer Bob McGarvey than when he finished third in the Kentucky Derby, departs from Chicago for Latonia Thursday to run in the $15,000 Latonia Derby Saturday. "Reaping didn't come along as fast this spring as some of our horses," said McGarvey. "But he's all right now and there aren't any odds that can beat him. He ran a good race in the Kentucky Derby but after that winning effort at Washington Park last week, I think he's in better shape than ever."

New Enthusiasm For Auto Racers

Indianapolis, June 9 (AP)—The nation's leading race pilots ended a strike for "guarantees" here today and started rolling toward New York to compete in the George Vanderbilt Cup race at the Roosevelt Raceway July 8.

Leon Duray, spokesman for the drivers, said, "The prize money, now the largest of any automobile race in the world, has given us new enthusiasm. We'll race those foreigners silly for that $70,000 put up by the Roosevelt Raceway management and the added accessory prizes which will make the total well above $100,000."

From Paul Abbott, raceway treasurer, came the announcement that only the 30 fastest cars will be permitted to start the race.

A total of $50,000 will be divided among the first ten cars to finish the race, with $20,000 to the winner.

American cars and drivers will get a special $10,000 purse, divided $2,500 for the first American driver to finish; $1,500, second, and $1,000, for the third driver; $2,500 for the first American car to finish; $1,500, second, and $1,000 for the third car.

Valuable Veteran

Manager Charlie Grimm did not count very heavily on Charlie Root when he planned the Chicago Cubs' pennant bid this spring. The veteran right-hander had celebrated his 35th birthday. He had been tossing 'em up to the Brubus' opponents since 1926.

But Grimm suddenly discovered half his hurling staff on the hospital list. Larry French broke a finger, Curt Davis tore a ligament in his pitching arm, Tex Carleton chipped a bone in his elbow. To make matters worse, Bill Lee was slow in rounding into form. Tarzan Parmelee, acquired in the trade which sent Lon Warneke to St. Louis last winter, failed to come up to expectations.

What Grimm would have done without Root is a question. With the season one-fifth over Root's name had appeared in the line up one-third of the time. He was the leading Cub pitcher in addition to having worked the greatest number of games. It is strange, indeed, that Root should have been of so much help. For years the experts have been counting him out.

When Root took part in 48 games in 1927, winning 26 and losing 15, it was freely asserted he had ruined his pitching arm. When he failed to show his former effectiveness the following year, winning only 14 games, the experts were ready with their "I told you so."

The experts have had to eat those words many times since.

Root has teamed with Gabby Hartnett to form the Cubs' battery for a dozen seasons. There isn't another pair in the majors with a record like that. One of Root's greatest disappointments is that he has been unable to win a World Series game. He has had his chances, but has always been thwarted.

Sam Snead Is 8-1 Favorite in Open

Birmingham, Mich., June 9 (AP)—The star-studded field of 143 professionals and 25 amateurs had a "free ride" coming today over the wind-swept, hay-covered Oakland Hills golf course—one last chance to find the answers to a host of questions the 7,000-yard layout will ask tomorrow as the 41st national open championship gets under way.

None welcomed another gratis tour more than youthful "Slammin' Sam" Snead, from down in West Virginia's knobs, who has been installed as the No. 1 favorite, although it is his first crack at the country's most coveted crown.

Snead, sensation of the winter tournaments and one of the longest drivers the game has ever known, couldn't find the correct answers yesterday as he practiced with Gene Sarazen, Lawson Little and Tommy Armour. The West Virginian played most of the round in the deep rough, reminiscent of the "hay crop" at Seoto in 1926 and at Inverness in 1931, and although he did not post a score, he said he totaled "somewhere around 76 or 77."

The long-driving lad from the Hill country was quoted at $ to 1 by the betting commissioners, despite the practice round results. Close behind Snead in the betting were Henry Picard, Harry Cooper, Byron Nelson and Ralph Guldahl, 10 to 1, and Tommy Armour and Ky Laffoon, at 12 to 1.

RYDER CUP MAKEUP DEPENDS ON U. S. OPEN

Birmingham, Mich., June 9 (AP)—The three-day chase for United States open golf championship honors at Oakland Hills, starting tomorrow, also will decide the remaining makeup of the Ryder Cup team, which leaves a week from tomorrow to play the British professionals at Southport.

Scores for the combined 36-hole qualifying competition of the P. G. A. championship, decided recently at Pittsburgh, and the regulation 72-hole open competition will decide the contest.

Tagging Major League Bases

By BILL BONI, Associated Press Sports Writer.

It's a press agent's dream, that double-header the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals are scheduled to play today at the Polo Grounds, in the shadow of Coogan's Bluff. It's a return engagement of the pitchers' battle of the century—Carl (Screwball) Hubbell vs. J. Herman (I Ain't Signing Nuthin') Dean.

The meek man from Meeker, Okla., and the pop-off ex-convict plucker are slated to tangle in one game of this afternoon's bargain bill, a set-up brought about when yesterday's game was rained out.

If anything, the build-up has been even better than for the original. Of course, Hubbell no longer is trying to extend that fabulous winning streak, as he was back on May 19, when last they met in St. Louis. Hubbell walked off with a 4-1 decision that day and Dean lost the ball game, his temper and $50.

The $50 was the fine assessed by National League Presy Ford Frick for Dean's actions in projecting a minor riot. Jimmy Rippel, the Giants' outfielder, suffered similar punishment as the principal party of the second part.

On top of that riotous precedent, there also is Dean's recent run-in with Frick, in which Dizzy stuck to his "sign-nuthin'" principles, to lend glamour to this occasion. Jerome Herman's reception by New York fans, who haven't seen him since the two Dean-propelled disturbances, forms another vital, and interesting, part of the picture.

To top it all off, there is the question of how long it will take Hubbell to resume his winning ways. The Dodgers broke his 24-game two-season streak on May 31 and belted him off the mound. Since then he's appeared twice, being knocked out once again by the Cubs, though he wasn't charged with a defeat, and doing a ninth-inning relief job to save a game for Hal Schumacher.

The prospect of the Dean-Hubbell clash sets the events of yesterday into the shade, even the facts that the Chicago White Sox ran their winning streak to ten straight to tie the Yankees for the American League lead, and that the Pirates over their losing string shot at five to move in behind the Giants and ahead of the rained-out Cubs.

The Sox now have completed a climb from the cellar that began on May 8 and required exactly a month. The final step was their 5-4 trimming of the Yankees yesterday, accomplished despite Joe DiMaggio's ninth homer and fourth in four days and Lou Gehrig's eighth.

The Pirates, on Russ Bauer's six-hit pitching, routed the Phils, 8-1. Lefty Lee Grissom, with a four-hit, blanked the Bees, 4-0, while, in the American League, Hank Greenberg's fifteenth homer and Elden Auker's one-hit hurling stopped the A's, 6-0, and the Red Sox put over eight runs in the ninth to edge out the Indians, 10-8.

The Browns and Senators were rained out.

Chicago—Harold Brown, 145, Chicago, outpointed Chester Rudy, 145, Los Angeles, (10).

New York—Andre Jesserun, 149-½, New York, outpointed Frankie Blair, 150, Camden, N. J., (8).

Jewish Convention Coming on June 13; Speaking Program

The annual regional convention of the Hudson Valley Zionist Region will be held in Kingston at the Congregation Ahavath Israel on Wurts street June 13.

MORRIS ROTHENBERG

The featured speaker will be Morris Rothenberg, chairman of the administrative committee of the Zionist Organization of America, and former president of that organization. The speaker is one of the outstanding personalities in American Jewish communal life and is widely known throughout Europe and Palestine for his efforts affecting the upbuilding of the Jewish National Home and the welfare of the Jewish people. He is a prominent New York lawyer, having practiced at the New York Bar for over 25 years and won distinction in the field of labor law.

A dinner will be held at Friedman's in Ritten with Morris Rothenberg again giving an address. Reservations for this dinner must be made with Morris H. Newman or Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom.

The Hon. Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman will greet the convention on behalf of the city, and Dr. Jacob S. Golub will address the afternoon session. Other speakers on the program will include Rabbi Teicher, Morris H. Newman, Mrs. H. Mandell, Joseph Block, H. Rafajowski, Charles Katz, Arthur B. Ewig, Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom of Newburgh, and Rabbi Abraham L. Jacobson of Amsterdam.

Display of the Flag

The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset; it should be displayed on national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions; it should be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously. In raising and lowering the flag it should never be allowed to touch the ground. When the flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the American flag is always at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs one flag of the United States should be hoisted first. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States, except where a number of flags are grouped or displayed from staffs, when the flag of the United States should be in the center.

College Women's Club Holds Final Meeting

The Kingston College Women's Club brought its season to a close last evening with a supper meeting at Watson Hollow Inn. As the guests dined on the porch, papers bearing names of famous women were pinned to their backs and by asking questions of neighbors, each had to guess the character she represented.

Annual reports were given by the secretary, Miss Agnes Scott Smith, and by the treasurer, Miss Ethel Mauterstock. Mrs. Hamilton Boyd, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced that the club will award its $100 to Miss Jean Elwyn of Woodstock, a member of the graduating class at Kingston High School, who plans to enter college in the fall.

Mrs. J. Richard Shults and Mrs. Kenneth Garside arranged the picnic.

Flower Boxes For TB Patients

Again this year the bed patients at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital are anticipating the pleasure of being able to enjoy the flowers that grow outside their windows in attractively arranged window boxes on the balcony. It is hoped that the many friends who shared in this plan last year will wish to continue the practice. The amount necessary to keep one box of flowers filled for the season is nominal and the pleasure afforded the patients is beyond measure. Orders for window boxes may be placed with Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, telephone 759.

Miss Alida Decker was honored on Tuesday afternoon at a supper given by Miss Frieda L. Hayes at her summer camp at Lake Katrine.

Home Institute BE ON BETTER TERMS WITH MUSIC

Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast.

So Shakespeare said long before modern nerve specialists proved how right he was. Today hospitals use music to cure nervous ailments.

Radio or phonograph brings this blessed gift to most of us. To enjoy it fully, let's know more of the instruments and the people who bring us beguiling sounds.

Try this experiment. Listen to some good orchestral music. Don't let your knitting or plans for tomorrow's lunch distract you. Relax. Let the music take possession of you. It will arouse your curiosity. Where does that crisp, rattling sound come from, you'll wonder. Probably the snare drum with its catgut cords vibrating against the tight parchment head. That dark and sinister sound? From the French horn, muted. Those warm, wooing tones? From the flute.

The second or third time you experiment, you'll be emotionally stirred, eager to learn all you can about music.

Our 40-page booklet, WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT MUSIC, explains melody, rhythm, harmony and color. Describes appearance and sound of orchestral instruments. Information on operas, symphonies, folk music, Jazz. How to get best results from your radio.

Send 15c for our booklet, WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT MUSIC, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

New Line Of Attack
Binghamton, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—Defense counsel mapped an undisclosed new line of attack today in an attempt to riddle Daniel P. O'Connell's story of how he bartered with kidnapers for the life of his nephew, John J. O'Connell, Jr., in July 1933. The Albany county Democratic leader was recalled for cross-examination after being on the stand all day yesterday in the federal trial of eight men charged with the abduction.

U.S. May Strengthen Merchant Marine

Washington, June 9 (AP).—The administration asked today for a new, subsidized fleet of 95 passenger and cargo vessels to build up America's lagging merchant marine.

President Roosevelt recommended that Congress provide $10,000,000 to start construction at once and authorize the maritime commission to sign $150,000,000 in construction contracts next year.

"For us, an adequate merchant marine has to be a new merchant marine," the President said.

Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy, of the maritime commission, promptly outlined a program for constructing 60 cargo vessels, 24 passenger-cargo ships, 10 high-speed tankers, and one big liner to replace the Leviathan.

Private companies are ready to build 28 ships in the next 18 months to three years, Kennedy said. Other vessels could be built either by the government or leasing or by private companies.

If Congress adopts the program, it would give effect to the newly-approved policy of direct subsidies for shipping as contrasted with previous indirect subsidies through ocean mail contracts.

(The new maritime commission is empowered to grant subsidies to make up the difference between the cost of building ships abroad and in the United States. It also can grant operating subsidies to American companies.)

ANOTHER POWER STRIKE HITS FLINT

Flint, Mich., June 9 (AP).—A power strike similar to that of three weeks ago crippled this city and Bay City this morning, but a few hours after it began there were indications a settlement of the labor dispute that precipitated it was in sight.

Consumers Power Company workers, charging that negotiators for the company were "stalling" in wage dispute, pulled switches here and in Bay City but shortly before 9 a. m. eastern standard time, service was restored in Flint. At that hour Bay City still was without power for major industries or light for homes.

At one time nearly 60,000 industrial workers were idle in the two cities.

Word from Washington indicated the strike here and in Bay City had been called without knowledge of a conference in the capital, which provided for a continuance of service pending further negotiations regarding wages of the power company workers.

Several small communities in the Saginaw Valley also were deprived of service. Approximately 400,000 residents in the 13 counties of the Saginaw Valley are served by the Consumers Power Co.

RIFTON CORPS PLAN PINOCCHLE PARTY

Saturday night in the Rifton Hall, the Rock School 4-H Fife and Drum Corps will hold a Pinocchio Party. This Drum Corps consists of 24 boys and girls of the Ulster County 4-H Club.

The most recent appearance of this unique group was when they led the Memorial Day Parade in Kingston on May 31. The Corps is now making plans to attend the state-wide 4-H Club Congress which will be held at Ithaca, June 27 to July 1.

In order to earn expense money for this trip members have arranged with the aid of Miss Anna Devine and Erynes Terpening to hold a pinocchio party Saturday night, June 12 at 8:15 and all friends and members of 4-H Clubs are urged to attend. For those who do not play pinocchio there will be other games and entertainment.

Excelsior Hose Brings Famed Exposition for Week's Exhibit

Samson 'Catching' Mlle Marguerite

Max Gruberg's World's Exposition Shows are scheduled to exhibit under the auspices of the Excelsior Hose Company all next week, commencing Monday, June 14, at the Washington avenue show grounds, and will arrive in the city next Sunday, June 13.

They comprise an accumulation of world's fair features hitherto seen at the last Chicago Century of Progress, The Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland and the Dallas Centennial of last year, hence their name.

They play the New York State Fair at Syracuse and have done so for the past three years, which speaks well for their attractiveness, and carry no less than 20 tented shows and 14 riding devices of the latest type.

Among the features are to be found the steepest motorcycle stadium in the world, ridden by four riders among whom is the English lady champion, Miss Dorothy Stone, who appears before former King Edward VIII, at a command performance; Mysteria, an adaptation of the late Howard Thurston's mysteries and magic; the Rainbow Follies with Miss Marguerite Hewett, understudy for the famous Sally Rand at Chicago, and other novel exhibits.

The big thrill, however, is the free attraction Samson, who is reputed to be the strongest man in the world. Samson catches a beautiful girl, Mlle Marguerite, who in turn is fired from an immense cannon on the midway, and is the only lady who has lived to tell the tale after such an experience. Several have tried it and there are other cannon acts, but this is the first time such a feat has been accomplished in this country.

The shows will open Monday next at 7:30 p. m. for the hose company's benefit.

Taxes Needed To Restore Millions

Federal income taxes and state employees pay only state taxes.)

If any action is taken on removing these exemptions, informed persons said, it probably will not develop until the tax dodging inquiry is completed.

The House resolution, passed without a record vote, would require the special committee of six senators and six representatives to give approval before confidential information on tax returns could be made public.

Almost unrestricted authority to publish income tax returns was voted by the Senate last week after President Roosevelt condemned tax evasion and avoidance. The two evasions must be reconciled before the inquiry can start.

Highland Auction Opens Thursday

The G. L. F. Mid-Hudson Produce Auction at Highland will hold its first sale of the season on Thursday, June 10, beginning at 1:30 p. m. At this time growers will be offering locally grown strawberries and early vegetables.

Within a short time cherries will be coming on the market, followed by raspberries and currants. Last year the auction sold over 250,000 packages of fruit and vegetables which were produced by about 700 different growers.

The first United States census, in 1790, enumerated 4,000,000 persons and required 18 months. The 1930 census took only 30 days.

from the cow to neighbors. This practice was recently complained of to the health board. The question was taken up with Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin and he wrote a letter to the board which was read in which it was stated that under the state sanitary code a person had the right to sell milk to persons from his own doorstep when their own containers are used, provided the milk is produced from a single cow, and in that case no permit from the health officer is required.

Dr. Clarke, milk inspector, explained that the quantity of milk sold in Kingston was very small, and probably did not amount to a dozen quarts a day in the outlying sections of the city. He said that the custom had been in existence for years.

The board believed that while under the state sanitary code it could not stop the practice but frowned upon it and did not approve of anyone so selling milk, unless it was certified raw milk or pasteurized milk, and adopted a resolution to that effect.

Attend Convention.
The board authorized Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, to attend the annual state health conference to be held in Saratoga June 22, 23 and 24. During Dr. Sanford's absence from the city Dr. Rakov will act as health officer.
